Objectives:
In this module, the students are required to expand their vocabulary of words and terms mostly used in various areas of politics, in order to be able to use English sources, and also to prepare themselves to write in English.

Prerequisite: English for Students of Politics – Part A

Students’ tasks:

Preparation before lessons:
The students must read section two of the lesson to be taught in the session, before coming to the class.

Participation:
Attendance in the class is compulsory. You are not allowed to be absent from the class more than three times during the term time.
In a lesson, each sentence will be translated by a volunteer student. (Every student in the class must translate at least one sentence in a lesson.) His or her translation will be modified by others or the lecturer. (What is important is mere participation, and not necessarily giving the right answer.)

Words:
Each student must enter words assigned to him or her in an Access file, and submit it before the final exam. He or she must memorise 100 of these words, for which he or she will be examined.

Attendance in the Exams:
There will be two exams, both compulsory: half-term and final. Questions of the two exams come from sections two of all the lessons of the main source.

Assessment:

| | | |
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th></th>
<th></th>
<th></th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Two exams (half-term, 5</td>
<td>15 (+</td>
<td>(+ 1 mark for questions from Part II of Section</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ordibehesht 1394 and final)</td>
<td>1 mark for questions from Part II of Section One of each Unit, in each exams)</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Listing and memorising the assigned words</td>
<td>2 (to be submitted by 31 Ordibehesht 1394; 0.25 marks will be taken out for every week delay)</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Class participation</td>
<td>3</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Total</td>
<td>20</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Main Source:
Davarpanah, Hormoz. English for the Students of Political Science II. SMAT: Tehran. 2006. (all the lessons of the latest edition)

Useful English to English Dictionaries (you would be better to have one of them; this is a life-long necessity):
COLLINS COBUILD English Dictionary
Oxford Advanced Learner’s Dictionary
Longman Advanced American Dictionary
COLLINS COBUILD New Student Dictionary